Develop your research skills and get published

Research to Publication is an e-learning programme to help you design, conduct and report on research that journal editors will want to publish. Developed by BMJ and UCSF for doctors and healthcare researchers, particularly early in their careers, it comprises eight courses containing 200 hours of expert tuition.

REGISTERING

1. Visit www.rtop.bmj.com (use institutional internet to browse website)

2. Click on Register tab   Register

3. On How to Register Page, choose If you do not have an access code, register here

> If you do not have an access code, register here
>
> REGISTER

4. Enter your email on My Account Page and click continue.

5. If you are already registered with us then enter the password and complete the registration process.

6. If you are not already registered, Fill in the form and set password for your account. Your email will be your user id.

7. Once the registration process is complete, visit www.rtop.bmj.com to sign in with your credentials to browse the course.