4. Read the following passage and answer the questions given below it.

All of us do some kind of work to ward off starvation or to gain sufficient material wealth with a view to maintain that standard of living which our intellectual and physical powers have helped us to reach. But there is another kind of work which is completely divorced from the burdensome process of our livelihood and which is undertaken for the sake of amusement or interest or the direction of our surplus stores of energy in some new and useful channels of refined tastes. This delightful occupation, combining work with pleasure or hobby, as it is properly termed, called for the application of our highest faculties, gives proper form to our healthy instincts, purposeful habits and disciplined behavior.

"A hobby is a favourite subject or occupation that is not one's main business." In this age of machinery which has taken upon itself most of the laborious duties of physical exertion, creating for ourselves pleasant intervals of rest and leisure should not be difficult as hobbies add some charm, color or zest to our life. The spare time must not be frittered away in idleness or spent on such work which overtaxes our mind and body after we perform normal function for the day.

The choice of hobbies, like the choice of books is not an easy task. Some hobbies demand a little guidance from experienced persons. Our sudden attachment to them without the preliminary knowledge may result in wasting of our resources of time and money, and in the end compel us to abandon them. Some hobbies are expensive, therefore, beyond the means of ordinary people who can ill afford to spend large sum of money on them. Not a few are incompatible with our temperament and taste.

We must not therefore, allow the glamour of certain hobbies to bind us to their reality, however tempting they may appear to us, nor should we begin to cherish them thoughtlessly because we find other people so devotedly attached to them. In a few rare and exceptional cases, sudden an instinctive choice of some hobby sometimes proves to be the right one. We must not, however, forget that tinkering with the hobby is joyless and wasteful process, unattended by any appreciable gains. Scattered interest in half a dozen or more odd hobbies is also not a desirable end.

- 4A) What is a hobby? (2)
4B) What are the advantages of a hobby? (2)
4C) Why has one to be very careful in selecting a hobby? (2)
4D) Under what circumstances do we have to discard a hobby? (2)
4E) State your views on the need for having hobbies in about a paragraph. (2)
4F) Give the meaning of the following words as used in the passage. (4)
(a) Amusement (b) Delightful (c) Exertion (d) Glamour

5. Frame sentences for the following pair of words.

- 5A) Beside/besides (2)
5B) Disease/decease (2)
5C) Altar/alter (2)

- 6) Write a job application letter for the post of staff nurse at Jaslok Hospital. (5)
7) Write a neat précis of the following passage and give a suitable title. (5)

At home and at school we spend a quarter of our lives and there we first learn the lesson of self-control, truthfulness, kindness, duty and all other qualities that make a good man or woman. The longer we live the more we realize how much we owe to our parents and teachers. When Napoleon Bonaparte had left his school days long behind and had become the First Counsel of France, he one day visited his old school and this is what he said to the boys:

'Remember that every hour wasted at school means a chance of misfortune in after-life'. What he meant was that there are certain opportunities for building up character which only come to us in the first fourteen or fifteen years of our lives and never afterwards.

Write an essay about 400-450 words on the following topics.

- 8) Tourism is becoming increasingly important as a source of revenue to many countries but its disadvantages should not be overlooked. What are some of the problems of tourism? (15)
